

Career Action Menu

The Career Planning & Development Center (CPDC) is available to assist international students with exploring and defining their personal career goals while developing the skills and confidence necessary to succeed.

CPDC advisors assist with identifying sources of experience while studying in the United States, preparing a resume, internship and job search strategies, and practice interviewing.

CAREER ACTION COMBINATIONS

Your career development is personal. The actions you should take each semester are determined by your background and interests.

- Get involved in an on-campus club related to your interests or area of study; attend the Student Involvement workshop on Gaining Experience in the U.S.
- Create or update your U.S. Style Resume
- Learn about legal options for employment in the U.S. by visit the International Recruitment and International website and/or attending a Curricular Practical Training (CPT) workshop (for F-1 visa holders)
- Meet with a career advisor to discuss how your area of study connects to careers
